CAPTURE OF CONVICTS NEAR PINOLE DEDICATES M. E. CHURCH

MAGNIFICENT MEMORIAL TO MRS. E. DOWNER

Formal Dedication of New Methodist Church at Pinole Sunday Before Many Visitors

THE BUILDING COST $20,000

Constructed as Memorial To Mrs. Elizabeth A. Downer, Wife of E. M. Downer Here

The formal dedication of the new Methodist church at Pinole took place Sunday with three very impressive ceremonies under the charge of Rev. J. D. Cook, pastor of the church. Over 550 persons, including visitors from Stockton, Oakland, Berkeley and other cities, were in attendance at the ceremonies. The dedication sermon was preached by Dr. A. C. Bane, district superintendent of the Oakland district, of Berkeley, before a congregation that packed the large church.

In the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock a platform meeting was held with the six former pastors in attendance, and they all gave talks appropriate to the occasion. They were Rev. Meese, pastor of the church 31 years ago, who was instrumental in the building of the first church; Rev. Wimming, pastor 25 years ago, who is now pastor at Sanoma; Rev. Crowe, of Sanoma; Rev. Hugh Baker

Council Accepts Invitation To Hall Dedication

An invitation from the Veterans' Memorial hall committee, asking the city council to participate in the dedication exercises at the hall Saturday afternoon, April 25, at 2:30, was accepted by the council last night, and Mayor Plate instructed as many members as possible to be present.

Memorial park is to be dedicated at the same time, for which ceremony City Attorney D. J. Hall has been selected as the speaker for the city and Walter Pierce for the Veterans' committee. The ceremonies will be held outside if the weather permits, and inside otherwise, it was stated.

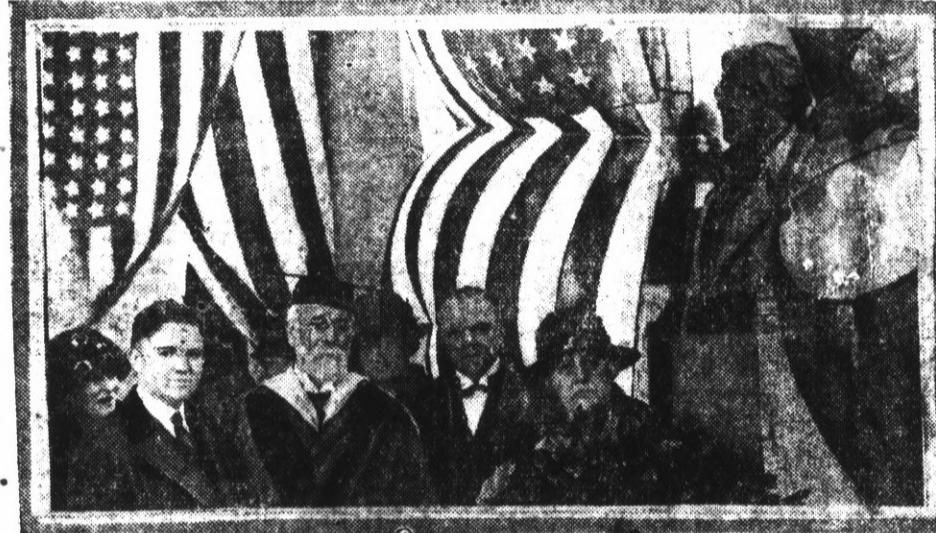

On recommendation of Councilman W. L. Lane, Mayor Plate and the council invited the public generally and everyone interested to attend the ceremonies.

Sewer Mystery Is Puzzle to Council

Complaint of insanitary conditions back of the building formerly occupied by the Dixie garage on Railroad avenue near Richmond avenue, was received by the city council last night from the West Side Progressive association, and while it was referred to the health department for further investigation the question brought out a discussion that sounded like a Phillips Oppenheim mystery story.

"We have been searching for that trouble for two years," City Manager McVittie stated, "and have never been able to find it." He said that it could not be the old sewer for it had been entirely abandoned and all the houses had been connected up with the new sewer. Questions discussed, but all ended in the same mystery; no one had been able to locate the cause of the trouble.

P.T.A. GIVES BENEFIT SHOW

This is a reminder that the P. T. A. show, "Boy of Mine," will be given again tonight. This entertainment is for the benefit of the scholarship fund. All are urged to come out and back up the Parent-Teacher association in their work of establishing schools and that help deserving students to attend college. The high school band is to play outside before the show and there are many other attractions.

The price of admission is twenty-five cents.

The first night of the Federated P. T. A. benefit scholarship show at the Richmond theatre last night was attended by an audience that packed the house to the doors and many had to be turned away.

Booth Tarkington's story, "Boy of Mine," was flashed on the screen as the feature attraction and with Ben Alexander in the stellar role, the presentation was very pleasing to the audience.

Little Sylvia Gilnebery, local juvenile performer, brought tears to the eyes of everyone with the recitation of "The Little Dead Cat," but the tears were soon wiped away when the Gump comedy "Oh, Min" and Felix the Cat appeared on the scene.

The high school band with a number of selections also added a great deal of life to the affair. Home made candy that truly "welted in your mouth" was dispensed between the various acts. The show will be repeated tonight.

The committee on scholarship, who assisted were Messmes A. L. Rector, W. V. Keltz, A. L. Rector, B. X. Tucker, Elizabeth Kinnear and Billy Brown.

High School Band In New Sweaters

The members of the Richmond high school band made their initial appearance in their new sweaters at the concert given at the Roosevelt

The new uniform dress of blue sweaters and white cords is very attractive and the band as a whole is very proud of its new uniform. The sweaters are navy blue with "V" neck collar and blouse effect. A small scroll "R" adorns the left side of the front. These new sweaters are a decided asset to the band both in appearance and comfort.

CITY GRANTS APPLICATIONS

By the vote of 5 to 3, others being absent, the Richmond city council last night granted Ben Brignone a permit to conduct a soft drink stand at the Colombo hotel, 102 Standard avenue. Those who voted against the permit did so, they said, because Brignone had formerly been found guilty of violating the Wright prohibition act.

Nays were Mayor J. H. Plate, Councilmen Mrs. Mattie Chandler and Mrs. Marie Eggborn; ayes were, Councilmen Lane, Carrard, Black, Scott and Scholtes. When asked for his opinion the question Chief of Police Dan Cox said he thought it would make no difference; if a man wanted to bootstrap he could do it as well without a permit as with one.

Mrs. Eggborn told of numerous complaints she had received from the public about a cigar stand on Seventh street to which the council

New Street Work Asked; Lights To Be Transferred

Petitions were received by the city council last night requesting the improvement of McBryde avenue, from Twenty-ninth street to San Pablo avenue. This petition was referred to the street committee of the council and the city engineer for one week. Assessments for the work are to be divided equally between the Richmond company and J. J. Moran, it was stated.

Agreements were signed with the Western States Gas and Electric company for the transfer for the 225 (approximately) arc light in Richmond to the new incandescent, refractory glassware lights which were agreed upon sometime ago. The new system will provide brighter lights and at the same time save the city about $600 yearly, it is estimated.

Meeting Today On Harbor

LOCATION OF WHARF NO. 2 TO BE DECIDED AT CONFERENCE THIS A. M.

Solution of the Richmond inner harbor problem is due to be solved today at 10 o'clock when conference will be held between City Manager A. J. McVittie, City Engineer E. A. Hoffman and Engineer Posey of Alameda county who represents M. Emanuel of the Ellis Dock and Landing Company, on the location of municipal wharf No. 2 and the opening of streets through the Emanuel holdings.

Engineer Hoffman, stated to the city council last night that no specifications for dredging for the new wharf could be given until the location of the wharf had been determined, and Manager McVittie said the question of opening streets to the inner harbor depended on the same issue. They announced that a meeting had been set with Emanuel's engineer for this morning and were given another week to make their report to the council.

Memorial Hall Question Has Discussion at City Council

Councilman Black, failing to get second to his motion that the city deny the petition of the war veterans association and retain the furniture in the Memorial hall in the city hall instead of giving permission to allow it to be removed to the new Memorial hall building, made a new motion laying the matter over one week so that the council could look over the furniture and decide how much of it belonged to the city and how much to the war veterans.

An inspection of the furniture was made last night following the adjournment of the meeting and a report will be made next Monday night. In the meantime, the War Veterans will be allowed to remove their own furniture to the new Memorial hall before the dedication of the hall Saturday afternoon.

In the discussion, E. E. Grow, chairman of the Veterans' Memorial hall committee, was asked for a statement as to what decision the veterans had made with reference

Veteran Firemen Get Back $10 Fund Allotted by City

After ringing speeches were made last night by Councilman W. W. Scott and W. L. Lane, the city council voted to re-instate the $10 monthly donation to the Veteran Firemen's association which had been rescinded at the previous meeting.

Scott and Lane pointed out that the veteran firemen are still organized and meeting regularly with good attendance, and are paying water, gas and light bills and attending to the upkeep of the hall in which they meet on the west side.

"Some years ago these old boys were doing good work for Richmond," Scott said, "with their few hundred feet of hose and their bucket brigade; they take pride in meeting and in their former work an' they are a wonderful lot of old fellows."

Lane said many a night, while others were sleeping, these boys had labored hard to provide fire protection and had gone home soaked with water, ruining many good suits of clothes. He said they are acting as daddies to the Boy Scouts who meet in the same building with them, and he believed the least the city could do would be to restore the $10 fund.

Roosevelt High Orchestra Test

The first public appearance of the 30-piece orchestra of the Roosevelt Junior High school this term was made at the school yesterday. Only the members of the student body of the school heard the music which showed great talent and hard work on the part of the orchestra. The purpose of the appearance was to enable the boys to become used to playing before audiences, and although this was their first attempt the members of the orchestra seemed very little embarrassed by being watched by their fellow-students.

SOCIAL CENTER REPORT

Receipts of $85 and expenditures of $72.10 during the month of March was reported to the city council last night by the Richmond Social Center; 23 families were given assistance. The health center reported expenditures of $594.90 for the month of March.

RIVER LAUNCHES AID HUNT

Sheriffs Posse Ready for Desperate Battle With Fugitives From San Quentin

SACRAMENTO, April 20.—Armed and prepared for a last desperate stand, the two life-term slayers who escaped from San Quentin prison two weeks ago are entrenched in a hidden stronghold somewhere in the thousands of acres of tall tule grass, either on the Lolo side of the Sacramento river or on Merritt Island, in the stream.

Large forces of police and deputy sheriffs from Sacramento, assisted by posses from Yolo county, are picking their way into the wide-spreading marshes, expecting to be fired upon at any minute by the men they cannot see two feet away on account of the dense growths.

POSITIVELY IDENTIFIED.

Identity of the two fugitives of the marshes as Floyd Hall and Joseph Tamm, the escaped murderers, was positively established today through photographs rushed to the scene of their latest appearance.

Their faces were readily picked out by ranchers of the district, river terrymen, who have seen the men skulking in the tules, and by a storekeeper of Courtland, who sold one of them a loaf of bread last night.

The men were last seen early this morning on the ranch of Borcher Brothers, five miles southwest of Sacramento, and a special posse of sixteen men was at once set to work combing the district from Sacramento to Courtland, stretch of fifteen miles. The lower six or eight miles of this is tide marshland along the river.

Boy Scouts to Stage Richmond Clean-up Week

Albert Foudy and Robert Johnson, members of Boy Scout Troop No. 4, appeared before the city council last night, and suggested that the city set aside a week in May as clean up week. They offered the services of all Boy Scouts in Richmond to aid in the clean-up work.

After discussion, in which the boys were highly commended for this laudable act of civic pride by Dr. Blake, Chief Cooper, Councilmen Lane, Chandler, Scott and others, the boys were instructed to confer with their Scoutmasters as to what week would be most suitable and report to the council for assistance.

It was generally agreed by the council that they would lend assistance in any way possible. The Scout Troops desire to divide the city into sections, each troop cleaning up one section of all old rubbish and debris.

SEEKING A NEW CONTINENT

Uncle Sam is going to send two naval planes along with the MacMillan Arctic expedition which starts from Maine next June. It is a private enterprise, under the auspices of the National Geographic society, but that isn't bothering Uncle. The secretary of the navy and the president have agreed to the proposal because they regard the possible benefits to the country as worth the small cost.

The particular object of those plans is the discovery of a new continent. It is suspected that there is a body of uncharted land in the Arctic ocean possibly as much as a million square miles in extent. Rumors of it have been coming in from explorers for many years. Often they have thought they found proof of such a continent, or huge island, but they have never been quite sure. Captain MacMillan believes that, with effective planes and pilots, as much can be done in discovering and mapping lands and waters of the Arctic in one season as has been done by ordinary methods in a century.

It doesn't seem likely that if a continent is discovered up there in the frozen waste, it will be of any use to the American people except as a matter of adventurous and romantic interest. In the course of many thousands years the Arctic may turn warm again, as it has in the past; but by that time there may be no United States of America. Yet there is no good reason why the United States government should not do its part in extending our knowledge of the world we live in.

AMERICANIZATION?

The following menu was used yesterday in a local restaurant and when one reads it he can readily see the need of Americanization classes, emigration laws and several other things. It is reproduced, spelling and all, just as it was used in a Richmond restaurant:

Checken supa.
Crab or shrimps, petetes, lettes.
Col ham, pet seled.
Portola sardins, pet seled.
Ten De Loin Sole.
Chicken Fracasse, crn pes.
Fraed chicken and toast.
Vel chops, Bredut, trup pes (?)
Frankrite en Saut Crout.
Pork Sausige, Mr. Petetes.
Liver end Bacon or Ounos.
Roost Motun, strings pes.
(The following were marked special)
Rib steak, extra cut.
Pork chops, Br. gravy.
Hamboiga Struk, Br. gravy.
Minced ham Amelet.
Spanish Amelet.
Pie, Pirms, peaches.

FRENCH CAPITAL LEVY

France has been having a financial crisis. The government proposes a "capital levy". The very phrase is alarming, especially to the French. Capital itself is supposed to be sacred. A direct, frank taking of capital by the government is an outrage, or at least a measure justified only in extreme necessity. It would scare Americans if any such levy were proposed here.

Yet the thing does not look so serious, when words are disregarded and facts examined. A 10 per cent tax on capital payable over a period of 10 years, is very different from an immediate seizure of all capital wanted, which would be a blow to business. It amounts to an additional tax on French property of 1 per cent a year for the next decade. And if the French are obliged to stand it, that will be largely because they have resisted taxation so vigorously in the past, instead of going ahead regardless of reparations to pay all they could, as the British did.

The essential thing in France is to make income equal outgo, instead of borrowing to meet current expenses, as the French government has been doing ever since the armistice. It may matter little what the tax is called, as long as it serves the purpose of balancing the French budget and starting to reduce the vast French debt a little instead of piling it higher.

ABNORMALCY

According to Carveth Wells, an American explorer who spent several years in the jungle of the Malay Peninsula, he found these freaks among many:

A fish that plays around the beach, climbs trees and, when you tickle its tummy, "swells up and bounces about."
A fish that winks at you.
A live Teddy bear fifteen inches high when full grown.

A "vest pocket deer" measuring seven inches from hoof to horn.

A monkey that carefully brushes its teeth at the edge of a

Black Taffeta Coats Are Smart Choice for Warm-Weather Wear.

THE fact that taffeta is spoken as one of the smart fabrics of the season is another way of saying that our clothes need no longer be sleek and slinky. Taffeta goes hand in hand with more bouffant, fuller modes. When the aim and ambition of the dressmaker is to produce a clinging line then taffeta is in little demand.

Not one but many of the French dressmakers showed taffeta frocks in the spring collections. Lavinia taffeta coat has been much spoken of. The line of this shows a gradual widening of the silhouette from shoulders to hem. The sleeves follow this line, too, being set in narrow shoulder seams and cut on the

Whether you select Lanvin's or Chanel's taffeta coat or accept neither you will be doing the fashionable thing to wear a black taffeta coat this spring and summer.

Such a coat has the much-desired quality of wearability, being cool and dust shedding. The taffeta coat for warm weather has always been especially popular with American women whenever it has been worn.

If you are inclined to the very mannish mode and still want to wear taffeta then you may be interested in the sleekly tailored coats of this material. They follow the lines of the very gentlemanly tweed coats that were worn throughout early spring in Paris and were part of the wardrobe of every American woman who returned from Europe in late winter or early spring. Often taffeta is used in combination with some other fabric. This is the case in the frock shown in the sketch, which is brown taffeta combined with beige charmeuse.

Great Situation Is Developed in California Film

"Do you hear? I owe a pawnbroker $1500 to get you!" And hadn't Sonya received the money from Bunker Ben to make things look a little more cheery in her tenement home in Delancey street? Hadn't she gone to Jakey Solomon, known as Julian, the great Parisian designer of gowns with a fashionable shop on Fifth avenue for help? All this to realize a life's ambition. From the first day she met Manning she had made up her mind that here was the man she was going to marry.

And now everything she had longed for, everything she had fought for, everything she had ever dreamed of seemed about to slip through her fingers.

It's a great situation Sidney Olcott has developed in his latest production for Paramount, "Salome of the Tenements," from the novel by Anzia Yezierska, now showing at the California Theater.

Jetta Goudal plays the title role of a girl of the lower east side in New York City who, like the real Salome, sets out to get what she wants. John Manning, played by Godfrey Tearle, is the victim in this instance. Sonya borrows money to make an impression on Manning and it is almost her undoing in the production when her husband discovers her clever little scheme.

José Ruben, who rises from a little sweat-shop tailor to a Fifth Avenue modiste, completes the trio of featured players in the leading roles of "Salome of the Tenements," which was adapted for the screen by Sonya Levien. There is an A-1 supporting cast.

Other features on the same program include "Red Pepper," a Mermaid comedy; "International News," and Larry Caneo at the organ.

Lois Truella Gordon, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl P. Gordon was laid at rest in Sunset View cemetery yesterday afternoon, following services conducted at the Bert Curry parlors.

The Modern Skyline

IN America's cities everywhere, towering high above the streets, are the "skyscrapers," monuments to industries, builders, and all whose thought and achievement enable hundreds or thousands to work and live comfortably under one roof.

These human hives, and the activity they shelter, are made possible by the telephone, with its cables and wires spreading from floor to floor and from room to room.

The messages they send and receive, now despatched so quietly and speedily in all directions, would require an army of messengers that could neither be mobilized nor directed.

Without such a service as the telephone for the transmission of spoken messages, America's monumental business architecture would not exist, and men would still have to live and work close to the ground, instead of in the air.

HEALTH SURVEY FOR CHILDREN IS HELD HERE

The first pre-school health examinations were held at the Health Center yesterday by Dr. E. H. Chapman, assisted by Mrs. Norma P. Johnson and Mrs. Currie. Parents were encouraged by the way in which many brought their children for examination. After the examination it was announced that all babies examined with the youngsters, who were checked to bring the children who attend the Lincoln Kindergarten.

This week the parents of Richmond are given an opportunity to secure complete physical examination for their children who are about to enter school without cost. The health centers, with nurses and physicians, have been opened by the State Department of Physical Education and the State Bureau of Child Hygiene and at present free health examinations are being given in almost every county of the State during the month of April. Parents may now be assured that their children are physically fit to enter the first grade.

White Slave Gang Export 3700 Girls

By Universal Service

BERLIN, April 21.—White slave gangs which make it a point of business to export young German girls—destination mainly the underworld of South America, the Balkans and France—have been responsible for the disappearance of 3,700 victims within the last six months, according to a report in the "Frankfurter Zeitung."

A fair share of the "missing" girls find their way into the United States despite strict immigration laws and the sharp eyes of the Ellis Island officials, it is claimed, due to the clever trickery of the master minds in the gangs.

With confederates in every city in Germany and a carefully worked out underground system to lure the innocent and unsuspecting into their clutches the gangs have managed so far to work practically unopposed.

One feature of their system which came out in a recent investigation is an "exchange" or "clearing house" in Hamburg where the workers meet, compare notes and sell the "missing" girls to the "bought" who ship them out of the country.

A letter purporting to have been stopped at the head of Holland furnished the clue for the capture and arrest of one "dealer" who had exported 50 girls of 17 and 18 years.

The letter follows in literal translation:

"The five girls arrived. They are now on the way safely to New York. Hamburg was overrun with police. But we managed to sneak the girls on the ship after hard work. Two of them nearly ruined things with their sobbing. But you know how well Emil works."

"I sold the girls to the San Francisco Blue Beard. There they can cry for 'mamma and papa' as much as they please. Next time you have any 'wares' bring them to the Hamburg exchange. Check follows."

A distinct advantage of the Hoyt Heater is its compact build. It may often be placed where other heaters will not go. It may be suspended from the wall above the laundry tray, ice box, or even under the hood above the kitchen range.

4 POINTS TO CONSIDER SELECTING A HEATER

LOW FIRST COST—The Hoyt is the only well-known water heater in this market, beyond the experimental stage, that sells within the price range of $50 to $80.

ECONOMY OF OPERATION—The Hoyt heats the water only once, as it flows through the coils when the faucet is open. No heating of unused water, thus keeping the gas bill down to a minimum.

DURABILITY—Made of the best materials, the Hoyt will give service indefinitely. After 15 years of production, we find the majority now in use are good for many years more.

SERVICE—Not only is the Hoyt delivered to you in first-class condition, but our highly trained Service Men are always ready to respond to calls and keep the heater working efficiently.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE ON HOME LOT

RADIOS BEAT MERCHANTS AT HOME DIAMOND

The first game of the Richmond City Twilight League in the new home of the clubs, the First street ball park, was played last evening, starting at 5:30 o'clock, between the El Cerrito Merchants and Richards' Radios.

The Radio "bugs" showed the Merchants up in a fine fashion, in what was probably the toughest game seen on a local diamond this season, by a score of 3 to 2. There was nothing very spectacular about the affair, every man playing air-tight ball and only two errors were checked up during the entire game.

Gadberry, playing as twirler for Richards, allowed 6 hits, while Aufenkamp, moundsman for El Cerrito, held the opposition down to only 4.

This evening the McRacken nine and the Santa Fe team will engage in conflict at the same diamond. All the fans know the playing abilities of these two clubs and a fast and furious contest is being looked forward to.

SIX COUNCIL CANDIDATES TO TELL AIMS

MAGNIFICENT

et Riverbank; Rev. Leek, of Half Moon Bay; Rev. Butterfield, resident of Fruitvale. P. M. Sanford, local contractor who built the edifice, also spoke, as did Mrs. R. B. McKenzie, president of the official board of the church.

Charles L. Bevin, one of the six candidates for the Richmond city council, availed himself of the invitation of the Business and Professional Women's club to appear before them at the Lincoln school auditorium, on the evening of Tuesday, April 28, and give a résumé of his aims, objects, and purposes as a city council candidate.

While the Richmond Business and Professional Women's club is a strictly non-political, non-sectarian body, its members are all interested in civic affairs and they feel that each of the six candidates should be given an opportunity to state their principles. Five other candidates who have been invited to make short addresses at the meeting are Mrs. Matilda Chandler, W. W. Scott, W. L. Lane, J. P. Strom, John L. Colling.

All have signified their willingness to appear although Bevin was the first to formally accept the invitation, and in order that the public generally may hear their statement of views, the Business and Professional Women have engaged the Lincoln auditorium for the evening and the meeting will be open to everybody.

In addition to the speakers a program will be given, on which Mrs. Anna Randolph of Oakland, accompanied by Aurora Thompson, president of the Richmond Conservatory of Music, will appear in special vocal numbers, and Mildred Bryant of Richmond, will give piano selections.

The meeting will open promptly at 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening, and according to Marie Jensen, secretary of the club, there will be no admission charge, no hat passed, no collection taken and no free will offering accepted.

BUT IT IS MEMORIAL

The church was constructed as a memorial to the late Mrs. Elizabeth A. Downer, wife of E. M. Downer, president of the Mechanics Bank of Richmond, and a most beautiful window in the church is dedicated to her. Her window is the main one in the church, and is wonderfully fitted with multi-stained glass, appropriately patterned.

Another beautiful window is the one dedicated to those who lost their lives fighting for the country. In the center is an American flag in a shield, with thirteen stars and with a border of stars.

Other windows in the building are dedicated to the Epworth League, Stella Carroll Croggins; Mother, Father and Ellenhurst family; Alice Ellen La Feuvre; Bell Elizabeth McLean and Little Mary Cook.

INTERIOR ART USED
The interior of the building was tastefully laid out by Architect J. A. Narbett of Richmond. The main auditorium is on the second floor and opening out from this is the chapel, the choir room, and the Sunday school class rooms. These rooms may be connected by means of opening a large door, with the main auditorium, thus practically doubling the seating capacity of the church.

On the first floor is the banquet hall, and the kitchen, equipped completely in the most modern way. There is also a club room and ladies' rest room on the first floor. The building will be heated with a furnace, supplying steam heat.

The study of the pastor is above the main auditorium of the church and is constructed in a way to insure perfect ease and comfort for Rev. Cook.

The most remarkable accomplishment of the congregation of the Methodist church at Pinole is the fact that the site and building which represents an investment of $20,000 is entirely free of debt. The old property and building has been sold to the Knights of Pythias for lodge rooms.

A new street of macadam is being installed in front of this beautiful brick monument by the county so the church-goers will be assured of easy access to the church in the most inclement weather.

Funeral Is Held For Robert Mews

After a short illness, Robert Philip Mews, baby son of Verma Turley and Kurt C. Mews, passed away early Sunday morning at the Fabiola hospital.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from the residence of H. H. Turley at 101 Arizona avenue, Rev. Frank Woten officiating.

The interment was at Sunset View cemetery, where the services were conducted by Miramar chapter of Eastern Star.

No Gloomy Days

If you'll simply do this in the morning

All those dull days can be ended, those days of unfitness. You can live two days in one. Millions have proved that in this simple, pleasant way.

On rising drink a glass of water, hot or cold. That washes out the stomach, fits it for food.

Add to that water a little Jad Salts. That makes an acid, evergreen drink. Jad Salts are made from the Jad Salts.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH CLEARS ITS DEBT HERE

A campaign conducted by Evangelist Floyd A. Ross on Sunday at the First Christian church to raise funds to pay off the church debt proved to a great success, with pledges amounting to $9,548.50 being turned in by the members of the parish. This amount will wipe out the debt of $5,000 and leave over $4,500 for the purchase of a parsonage, a move long contemplated by the church.

The success of the meeting far exceeded expectations and will place the church on a sound financial basis, Rev. Frank A. Woten, pastor, declared.

The meeting held Sunday by Evangelist Ross and party crowded the church to the doors, and the Sunday school attendance of 361 reached a new record. The evangelistic series came to an end last night with a final short, but very interesting sermon by the evangelist and a reception of the 82 members taken in during his stay here.

The services opened at 7:30 o'clock and were followed by the reception which took the form of a social good time. Evangelist and Mrs. Ross are leaving today for Los Angeles where they will conduct services.

MEMORIAL HALL

to maintaining the hall building. He said that no decision had as yet been made, but that if they could not be allowed to maintain the hall through its own rentals, he believed its doors would be closed and the building abandoned and forgotten about.

"We have always understood that the Memorial hall would be allowed to maintain itself," Grow said, "and the Veterans are opposed to asking public charity for maintenance. The veterans, he said, "did not crawl up to go to war and they fought standing up, and they don't feel like crawling now."

Furthermore, Grow declared, it was the impression that the county would have nothing further to do with the building after it had been turned over to the veterans. It would then be up to the veterans to make the hall self-sustaining through rentals. It would not be a money-making proposition, he said, but all money taken in would go into the hall fund.

Grow conceded, however, that the Richmond hall association had logic to back their stand against the leasing of lounge rooms in the Memorial hall, and Councilman Black stated that the associations "have all built halls and are all now in debt and depending upon the rentals of their halls to maintain them."

Black is a member of the Redmen's, the Knights of Pythias and the Old Fellow's hall association, and he said that while the Old Fellow's proposed new building could take care of itself through store rentals and other sources, the others are in bad shape. The Redmen have invested $20,000 and their debt is probably $10,000 he said.

Competition in this line in Richmond, Black said, is extremely keen, and while he regretted that such a controversy had arisen in Richmond, it had developed into a difficult problem to handle.

Another joint meeting is scheduled for Thursday evening between the Veterans committee and the lodge hall committee, at which time District Attorney A. B. Tinning will be present, as will probably some members of the board of county supervisors, and it is hoped that a solution can then be determined.

Black wanted the furniture retained in the city hall for use of a Boy Scout troop and the Radio club, he stated. Grow said that a custodian had been appointed for the Memorial hall building, who would be on hand at all times to take care of visitors to Richmond, who might want a place for a few hours rest. He said there are two good lodges rooms, a kitchen in the basement, a banquet hall and other rooms.

Grow said the Veterans would not object if the city wished to retain its own furniture in the city hall, but they would insist on removing the veterans furniture to the Memorial hall building.
